

Harold J. Palmer Biography NCMC 2013

Harold J. Palmer is the Chief Innovation Officer with the First Judicial District of Pennsylvania. He holds a Bachelor's Degree from Temple University in Computer Science and a Court Management Certification with the National Center for State Courts. Mr. Palmer also earned Project Management Certification from the Project Management Institute. He is a member of the National, Mid-Atlantic and Pennsylvania Associations for Court Managers and has nearly 30 years experience with the court system's Information Technology department. Aside from his responsibilities with the court, Mr. Palmer is currently working on writing his first short story that, he hopes, to one day be a screen play. Mr. Palmer also works part-time for the past 35 seasons as Director of Premium Services Staff for the Philadelphia Phillies.